Reunion BLESSING

I've been asked to offer a prayer of blessing for this event, for those gathered here and your families, and for the food we are about to receive.

Lord God,

The paths of our lives have taken us far and wide, but it is surely a blessing for us to be able to gather together after more than half a century.

Over the years you have never left us alone, though at times we might have found ourselves wandering in deserted places. Help always to know your presence, confident in your never-failing love.

Grant your favor upon us and our families. May we work to better this world and the lives of all your children.

As we become more and more advanced in age, let us grow more deeply in the knowledge of you and your designs in our lives.

Tonight we ask your blessing on this assembly, guide our conversation; bless the meal we will share, those who prepared it, and those around the world who will go to bed hungry.

Above all, help us always to live and act as your loving children, ready, one day, to be called home to you.

We praise you and ask all things confident in your loving mercy upon us.

Amen.
